Observations
(of the end of tool, The project provided the opportunity to the management of the company in improving the training methods of new recruits
The project forced the company to complete documentation in a more structured and scheduled way.

use additional space if required)

It also gave the company the tools for calculating the material balances for two products. This activity is however incomplete.

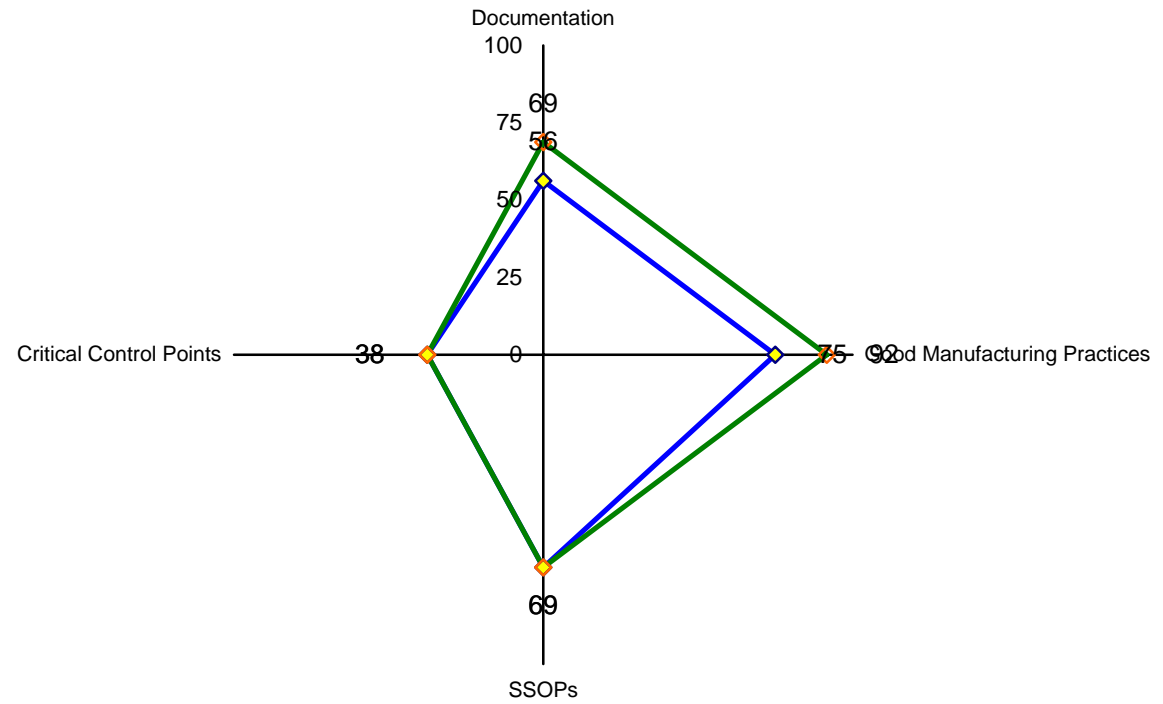

The project also increased the awareness of the company's personnel regarding solid waste management. A project on composting is being developed in collaboration with a neighbouring school, Maud McLeod High school.
